Online Ordering and Delivery

Section 16 of 20

Customers can place grocery orders through the store's online ordering service when available.

Orders should include the customer's name, delivery address, phone number, and selected products.

Standard delivery is normally scheduled within the available delivery slots shown at checkout.

Delivery availability depends on service area, order volume, weather, and product availability.

Customers should verify their order at delivery and report missing or damaged items promptly.

Returns and Refunds

Section 17 of 20

Customers should keep the receipt or digital order record for return requests.

Damaged, incorrect, or defective packaged products can be reported to customer support.

Fresh and perishable products may have special return conditions.

Refund timing depends on the original payment method and payment provider.

Products that have been opened or used may not qualify for return unless they are defective.

Q: Do prices change? A: Yes, prices can change because of promotions, suppliers, seasonality, and market conditions.

Q: How can I report a missing item? A: Contact customer support with the order number and item details.

Q: Can I request a product? A: Customers can ask staff to consider stocking products that are not currently available.

Store Policies and Final Notes

Section 19 of 20

GreenBasket aims to provide accurate product information, fair pricing, and reliable customer service.

Customers should review labels, ingredients, allergens, expiry dates, and storage instructions before purchase or consumption.

Prices and availability in this sample document are fictional and intended for RAG experimentation.

For a RAG application, useful questions include: 'What is the price of basmati rice?', 'What are the store hours?', 'What is the return policy for fresh products?', and 'Which products are available in the dairy section?'

End of GreenBasket Grocery Store knowledge base.
